Refilling your old ink cartridge is not only a simple process it is also one which is both good for your pocket (the savings are huge) and good for the environment as well. Every year landfill sites are filled with empty printer cartridges which will be there for thousands of years. So, the next time you run out of ink fill your ink cartridge yourself save pounds and know that you have done right by the environment as well. Some of the newer printer cartridges such as the HP 21 and HP22 have as little as 5mls of ink in them. A typical black refill kit has 30mls of ink - so with one kit you could refill the HP21 up to 6 times - and the kit costs less than half the price of a new cartridge! Ink refills - the smart way to save on print consumable costs.
